DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of claims 1-12 and 18-21 in the reply filed on 10/24/2008 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 13-17, 22 and 23 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 10/24/2008.

Claim Objections

Claims 6-8 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Laughlin.

Laughlin teaches a heat treatment apparatus in the embodiment of figure 6 for example, including a support means (26) for supporting and rotating a workpiece, and a stationary induction coil (16) showing all aspects of the above claims since the manner or method of use of the claimed apparatus (what type of workpiece is treated) cannot be relied upon to fairly further distinguish claims to the apparatus itself. see MPEP 2114 and 2115.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Del Paggio et al. Del Paggio et al teaches a heat treatment apparatus in the embodiment of figure 2 for example, including a support means (70, 150) for supporting and rotating a workpiece, and a stationary induction coil (280) showing all aspects of the above claims since the manner or method of use of the claimed apparatus (what type of workpiece is treated) cannot be relied upon to fairly further distinguish claims to the apparatus itself. see MPEP 2114 and 2115.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cachat. Cachat teaches a heat treatment apparatus in the specification at col. 3 lines 50-65 for example, including a support means (a chick and support arrangement) for supporting and rotating a workpiece, and a stationary induction coil (66, 70) showing all aspects of the above claims since the manner or method of use of the claimed apparatus (what type of workpiece is treated) cannot be relied upon to fairly further distinguish claims to the apparatus itself. see MPEP 2114 and 2115.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5, 9-12 and 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Del Paggio et al in view of Japanese 58107418 (JP'418). As applied to claims 1-5 above Del Paggio et al shows all aspects of the above claims except the use of a refractory or ceramic as the material for the support means, since the use of the apparatus for the treatment of a specific type of workpiece (a helical coil treated in any particular manner) cannot be relied upon to fairly further distinguish claims to the apparatus itself (see MPEP 2114 and 2115). JP'418 teaches that it was known in the art at the time the invention was made to design support bars for supporting workpieces subject to induction heating out of a refractory ceramic that itself would not be subject to heating. Because Del Paggio recites no specific material for the construction of its support members, motivation to employ a known refractory of ceramic material as taught by JP'418 for construction of these components, would have been a modification obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.
